Information about Sharpe Needed

We are researching medals struck by the United States Mint in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania from 1972 to 1976. One selection of our project covers die-sinkers, engravers, modellers, and designers who have been employed or commissioned by the U.S. Mint, or engravers asked by a proprietary body to prepare dies or designs for the Mint.

We have been unable, after laborious search, to gather data on M. Alvin Sharpe for a brief biographical sketch. Can any readers of the TAMS JOURNAL furnish us or direct us to information about Mr. Sharpe?

Let us know your feelings.

Send your letters to the Editor, P.O. Box 2173, Colorado Springs, CO 80901. Letters may be edited or condensed for publication, and all should be submitted as signed originals with the full name and address of the writer. Readers wishing to communicate with the authors of published letters are invited to write directly to the authors.

Editor's Notes

I am certain it must be somewhat of a surprise to receive your June issue of the TAMS Journal as you begin to get ready for winter. With all due apologies for the lateness, and with great hope that you haven't abandoned your optimism altogether, I am happy to report that a bit of new life and enthusiasm has been infused in this publication, and that by 1983 we will have these journals, and special supplements, arriving on a regular basis.

As you can see as you read this issue, material for publication has been somewhat of a problem. The Journal is as good as the material submitted to the editorial offices for publication, and the bulk of the material received to-date is quite interesting, but very short in format. Announcements of new medal issues and other related material arrive fairly steadily, and hopefully, publication of these announcements is of interest to you as readers. You will also note that the Journal regularly has a letters page, if you would like to use this column as a vehicle for communicating with your fellow members, please do so. Letters to the editor, even those not intended for publication but offering suggestions and ideas are always very welcome, and I thank those of you who have taken the time to write to me.

I have in process for the next few issues, several excellent research articles that are certain to be of interest to all TAMS members. With the help of Cheryl Maisch, TAMS Librarian, select favorite token and medal related articles will be reprinted in upcoming issues. If you have suggestions for an article that you would like to see reprinted, please contact me. I will make every effort to see that it is included in an upcoming issue. As always, your support and patience are greatly appreciated.

The Bravest Woman in America

by FRANCIS PESSOLANO-FILOS, TAMS 3731

Ida Walley Lewis, known also as the Grace Darling of America, was born on February 25, 1842, in Newport, Rhode Island, to Hosea Lewis, a native of Hingham, Massachusetts. Her mother was Ida-Walley Lewis, a daughter of a physician of New Shoreham, better known as Block Island. Hosea Lewis was appointed keeper of Lime Rock Lighthouse when it was established in 1850.

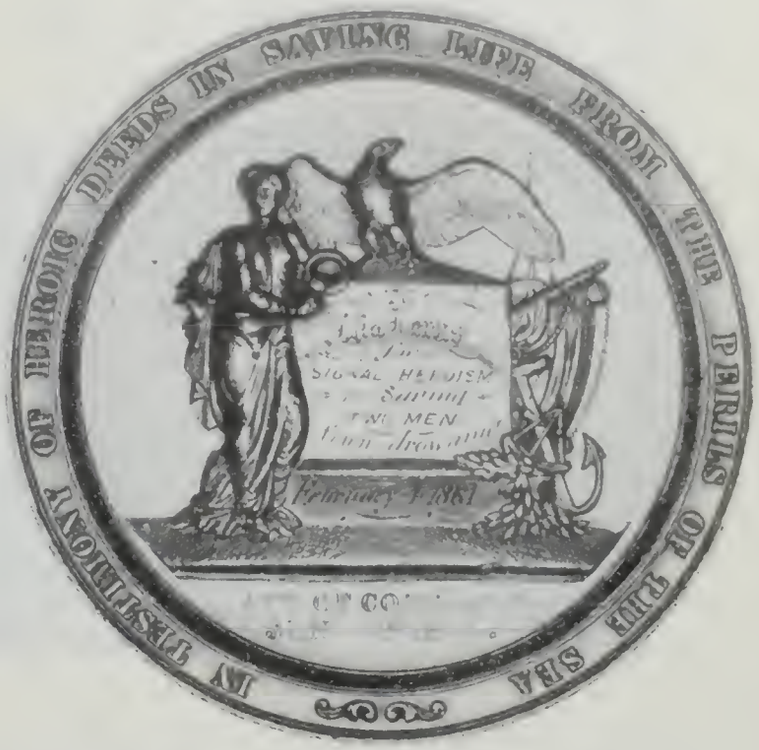
Seven years after his appointment Hosea Lewis was stricken with paralysis, and Ida was obliged to attend to the chores of the lighthouse, help the family in other work, and row her younger brothers and sister to the mainland for schooling five days a week. Ida Lewis became used to hardship and heavy burdens, and kept the lighthouse for her father without title until 1879, when she received an official appointment as keeper of the Lime Rock Lighthouse.

Ida made her first rescue in March 1858 when she was only sixteen years old, and between 1861 and 1898 pulled eighteen people from the sea. Her most daring exploit took place in February 1866 when she saved three soldiers from Newport Harbor. Less than a year later, in January 1867, she rescued three laborers whose boat had swamped while they were pursuing a frightened sheep that had taken to the water. The intrepid Ida Lewis also rescued the sheep.

Miss Lewis herself narrowly escaped death in 1881 when she was pulled through the ice by two soldiers from Fort Adams whom she was trying to rescue. Although almost benumbed by the cold she escaped drowning and finally got the soldiers to safety. For this feat, the 43rd Congress voted her thanks and a gold medal. The Massachusetts Humane Society also presented her with a silver medal for saving the sheep and the officials and soldiers at Fort Adams gave her a silver service. Major-General Hunt, formerly commanding officer of Fort Adams, presented her with a purse of $500 in recognition of her many brave deeds, and the Andrew Carnegie Foundation granted her a pension of $30 per month for four years. In 1897 she was awarded the Cross of Honor by the Society of American Honor, who officially recorded her name in their log as the bravest woman in America.

Ida Lewis married William H. Wilson in 1892, but the marriage was not a happy one. After a brief residence at Black Rock, Connecticut, she returned to the lighthouse, and never heard from her husband again.

After a colorful life of unmatched braveries and usefulness, Ida Walley Lewis died on October 24, 1911. Her remains are interred in a small cemetery at the end of Farewell Street, in Newport, Rhode Island. Her boat Rescue, and all her medals and trophies were left to the Newport Historical Society.



This medal, presented to Ida Lewis on October 15, 1881, is one of the most noted examples of the Life Saving Medals of the First Class. Designed by Herman Faber and engraved by Anthony C. Paquet, the 50mm medal was struck at the U.S. Mint in .999 fine gold.

Obverse: Between two concentric circles is circumscribed: * LIFE SAVING MEDAL OF THE FIRST CLASS * UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. In the field, within a beaded border, three men are pictured in a small boat in a heavy sea. One is rescuing a man clinging to a spar, at the end of which is a block and line. Another is standing prepared to heave a line, and the third is rowing. In the distance to the left is the wreck of a vessel. On waves, foreground, is the word: PAQUET in small letters.

Reverse: In the field, center, on a platform, is a granite monument on the front of which is incised: To / Ida Lewis / - For - / Signal Heroism / In Saving / Two Men / from drowning. On the base of the monument is the inscription: FEBRUARY 4 1881. On the top of the monument is an American eagle with outstretched wings facing to the right. To the left and front of the monument stands a female, barefooted and covered by a loose garment, facing partly to the left, holding an oak wreath in her hand. With her right she prepares to inscribe the name of the person receiving the medal. To the right are grouped a ship's mast with a sail, an anchor, and a laurel branch. The scene is enclosed in a beaded circle; between it and the edge of the metal is the inscription: IN TESTIMONY OF HEROIC DEEDS IN SAVING LIFE FROM THE PERILS OF THE SEA. Centered at the bottom is a small design. In exergue beneath the standing figure is the inscription ACT OF CONGRESS / JUNE 20TH 1874.

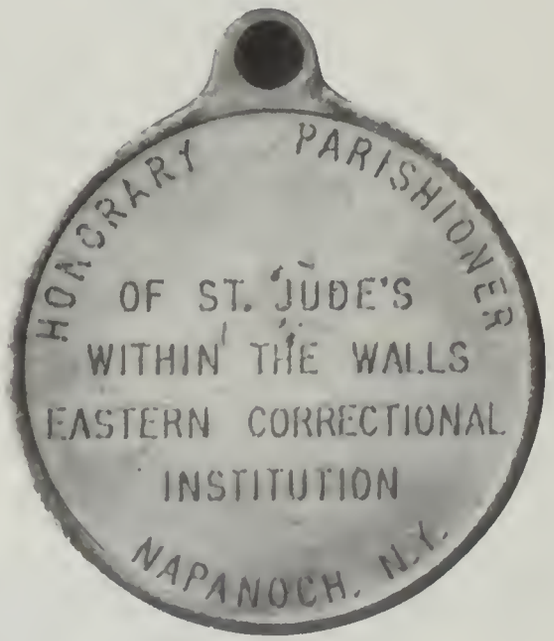
Unlocking Prison Exonumia

by ARLIE SLABAUGH, TAMS 2481

The recent TAMS Journal supplement on "Prison Money" by Jerry Zara and Bob Lemke provides a much needed up-to-date catalog of this subject. While its scope is limited to the money used by prisons in the United States, a number of other items are also illustrated. Perhaps collectors in this field who do not limit themselves to the tokens might be interested in a couple unusual related pieces in my collection.

A key with inscription on one side only; other side blank. Inscription reads: C.V. "Buster" KERN. SHERIFF, HOUSTON, TEX. KEY TO HARRIS COUNTY JAIL (over sheriff's star). Brass, 3 inches long. An attractive item possibly used in a political campaign or as a gift to special friends or VIPs.

For those who have not had the opportunity to view Jerry Zara's extensive exhibit of prison exonumia, the above gives some idea of the possibilities — one doesn't have to be "locked" in prison tokens only.



Obverse: View of church within corner of prison walls. Reverse: Honorary parishioner of St. Jude's Within the Walls Eastern Correctional Institution Napanoch, N.Y. Brass, 31mm, looped. Question: How many prisons have separate church buildings such as this within their walls?

GIVE A HOOT —

Shown here is a 32mm aluminum token issued by the United States Forest Service in connection with its conservation education program.

The token depicts Woodsy Owl and his familiar slogan, "Give a Hoot — Don't Pollute." Although issued by an agency of the Federal Government, the token does not appear to be a U.S. Mint product.

We obtained a few of these tokens in 1979 by playing an educational game set up at the Forest Service Visitor Center at Seneca Rocks, West Virginia. In the game, the player looks out over a panoramic forest view. As District Ranger, he is asked to make a series of choices about management of forest resources. The activities are building a campground, harvesting timber, allowing grazing, preserving a wilderness, locating a reservoir, using a controlled burn, and routing a utility corridor. There are three possible choices (sometimes including a no-action alternative) for each of the activities. The instructions say: "Make your decision based on the information provided in the game so that your district provides the most benefits for the most people for the longest time." To make your choice, you push a button and a slide shows you visually how your choice would affect the forest. If the decision is a good one, you receive a token.

Although it doesn't say so, the token is of the "good-for" variety. It can be exchanged for a balloon or pin picturing Woodsy's side-kick, Smokey the Bear.

Token Trilogy Completed

by Russ Rulau, TAMS 18

With the publication of U.S. Merchant Tokens 1845-1860 in April 1982, the trilogy of token catalogs I had long planned is complete, and — at long last — there are detailed, illustrated, priced catalogs covering all U.S. currency and advertising tokens from about 1700 through 1860.

Hard Times Tokens appeared in June 1980, (second edition in 1981) and Early American Tokens in May 1981. A second edition of the latter should appear before the end of 1982.

In the process of gathering data for the trilogy, I found it impossible to ignore the accretion of specimens, background and other data on post-Civil War tokens, and I have already catalogued some 1,000 tokens from 1866 through the end of the 1880s before beginning serious work on the post-CW project.

Many of my collaborators on HTT and USMT tell me that it is impossible to complete a catalog of every post-CW token. I'll take their word for it that it's impossible to be complete, but I plan to bring out such a catalog anyway. The labor may not be as gigantic in nature as many think.

U.S. Trade Tokens 1866-1889 (including those 1861-1865 pieces not in my Merchant Tokens or Fuld's Civil War Store Cards) may be ready for publication by the end of 1983 if all goes as planned. I thank the many TAMS members who have collaborated on my previous efforts, and appear once more, for assistance on the new project.

Trade Tokens 1866-1889 will contain the following:

All Adams-Miller listings provably after 1860 (except a very few issued after 1889)

All merchant tokens of some beauty and character which emanated from the 1866-1889 period (such as the attractive Texas pieces by Heidemann Manufacturing and the Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Boston, New York and Chicago issues which are pictorials)

Utilitarian trade checks (including identified mavericks) from the era

Picker checks from the era

Counterstamped coins from the era.

The book WILL NOT contain any of these categories:

Hard Rubber cards

Shell or Mirror cards

Politicals (except political-store card mules)

Transportation tokens

Trader or Military tokens

They say that fools rush in where angels fear to tread, so we'll announce a really long-range project at this time also — U.S. Trade Tokens 1890-1913. This might well have to be published in more than one volume because of the enormous scope, but it might be possible to produce a single volume if certain large series are eliminated — saloon and billiard checks, for example. This project needs a great amount of thought and I am amenable to suggestions.

Those authors who are producing state-by-state listings are to be commended. These works are needed. Still, general U.S.-wide token catalogs are in demand because they tend to appeal to so many more people — from specialists to novices in numismatics, and even to non-collectors seeking historical or economic data. Dealers and general collectors also require all-inclusive volumes.

I now have enough data in my possession to increase the size of the First Edition of Eary American Tokens by fifty percent — unlisted tokens and medalets, much additional background material, more early counterstamps, more phoenix buttons, a few more communion pieces, and even two early Florida issuers.

There are also a great number of price changes needed, as this particular market is proving volatile. Very few Early American tokens come on the market, but when they do they create new records upward as well as some dramatic moves in the opposite direction. Present plans are to bring out a Second Edition of Early American Tokens some time in 1982, probably late in the year.

Interested persons who wish to assist on any of these projects may write: Russ Rulau, Krause Publications, 700 East State St., Iola, WI 54990. I'd be pleased to hear from you.

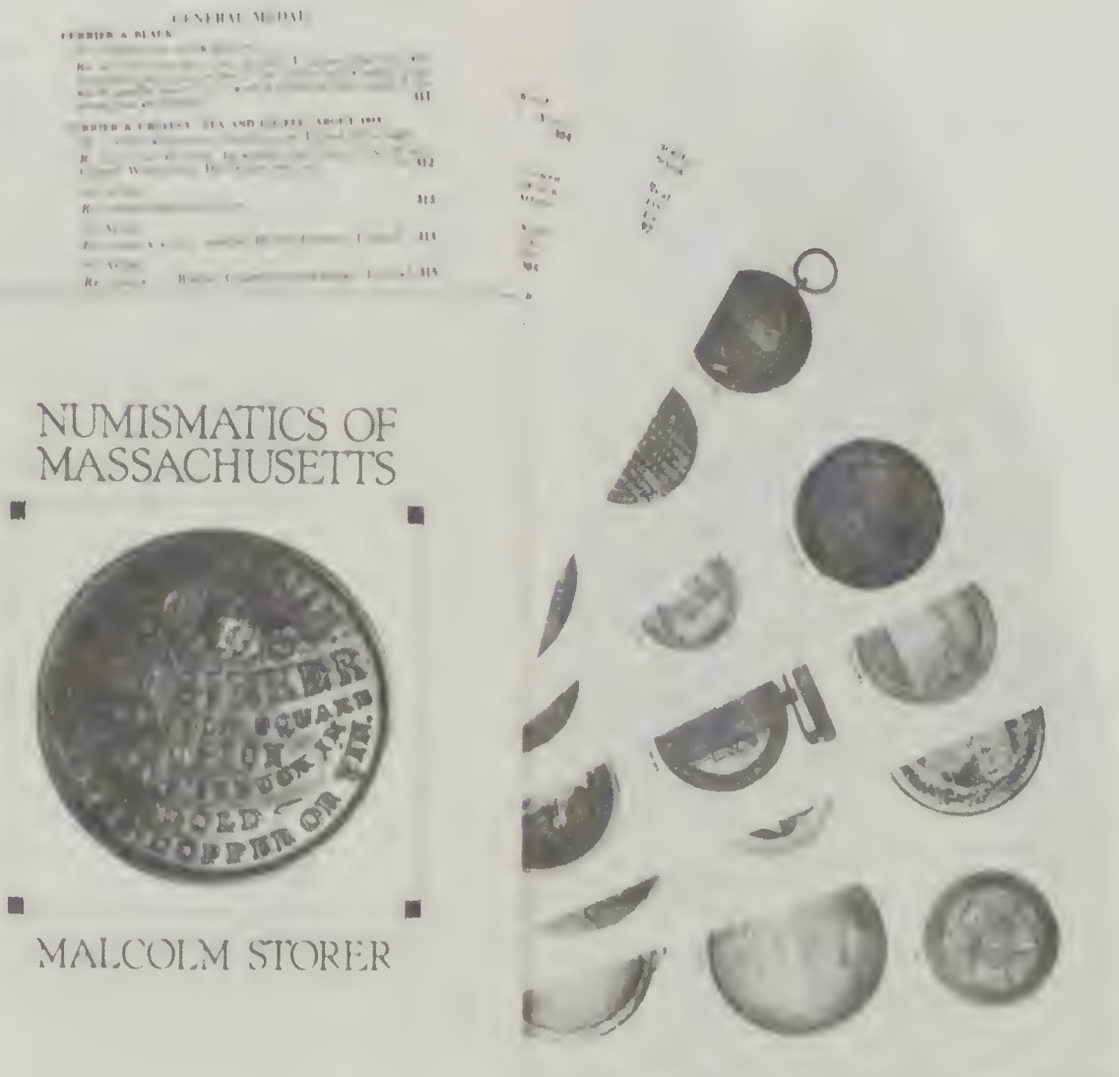
Numismatics of Massachusetts



This work is a facsimile reproduction of the original volume which appeared in 1923 as Volume 76 of the Collections of the Massachusetts Historical Society.

As Storer's Preface indicates this was a pioneering effort to list the Medals of Massachusetts contained in the collection of the Massachusetts Historical Society. The work is divided into the following general headings: GENERAL MEDALS AND STORE CARDS, PERSONAL MEDALS, ADDITIONS, BADGES, JOHN ADAMS BOLEN AND JOSEPH H. MERRIAM.

The reprint encompasses 319 page with 38 plates including an index and a new foreword by Malcolm Freiberg. This hardbound reference work, while not updated, is a major work of lasting value for the specialist in Medals or Massachusetts history.

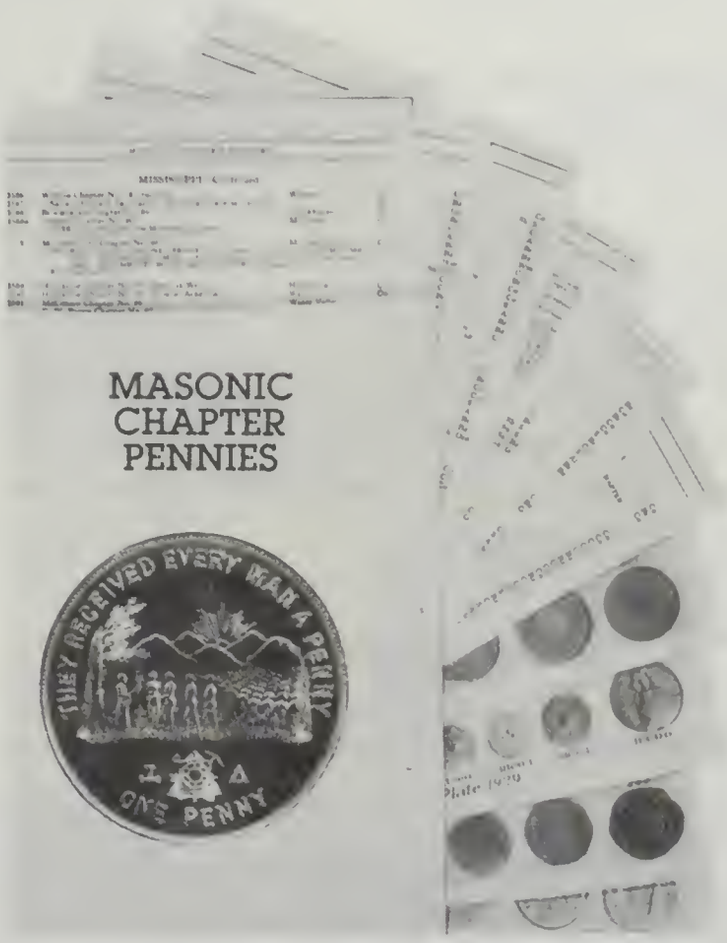
MASONIC CHAPTER PENNIES

E.A. King



This work is a state-by-state listing of the Mark Pennies of each Chapter known to King from the specimens contained in the Albert M. Hanauer collection. In addition, 5 pages of foreign Chapters are represented, a section on Canada and Canadian Provinces and 23 plates of illustrations. The individual pennies are sequentially numbered and more than 16,000 numbers are provided with some gaps. Sub-varieties are noted. Although this work is limited to the documentation of a single collection, it is the major listing of such pieces and therefore indispensable to the specialist or library.

The work was originally published in 1926 and has always been scarce in the original edition. Quarterman's 1972 edition has been long out of print so a new printing has been made to provide copies to those now seeking them. The work encompasses 384 pages and is hardbound in library buckram.

Nevada and Foreign Gaming Tokens

In 1964, as the price of silver rose, the silver dollars used in the 21 tables and slot machines disappeared. To alleviate this shortage, the Nevada Gaming Control Board authorized the use of metal tokens; most of these tokens were struck by the Franklin Mint Co. Proof-like specimens were sold to collectors. These proof-like $1.00 tokens are offered below @ $4.00 each.

CODE OF ETHICS
OF THE
TOKEN AND MEDAL SOCIETY

Membership in the Token and Medal Society is a privilege extended to those who subscribe to the purposes of the Society and who meet the other prerequisites of membership.

The Code of Ethics has been duly adopted by the Board of Governors of the Society to serve as a standard of conduct to which members should aspire. A breach of ethics by any member reflects, directly or indirectly, upon other members, the Society and upon the sincerity of our purpose. Such a breach is therefore prejudicial to the welfare of the Token and Medal Society and may be cause for disciplinary action by the Board of Governors.

Membership in the Token and Medal Society carries with it the commitment:

1. To support and be governed by the By-laws of the Token and Medal Society and such amendments, resolutions and policies as may be established.
2. To abide by all federal, state and local laws relating to numismatics and to tokens and medals in particular.
3. To conduct oneself so as to bring no reproach or discredit to the Token and Medal Society or to impair the prestige of membership therein, or the collecting of tokens and medals.
4. To abstain from buying or selling tokens, medals, or other numismatic and hobby material of which the ownership is questionable, and to report promptly to the proper law enforcement agencies information on suspected stolen material.
5. To promote the education of collectors and students of tokens and medals and a fraternal relationship among them.
6. To conduct transactions in tokens and medals fairly, with integrity that is responsive to legal requirements and to the highest ethical standards.

Collectibles Expo a Great Success

The Third Annual National Collectibles Exposition was held March 13 and 14 at the Ramada O'Hare Inn in Des Plaines, Illinois. A long line of avid collectors formed early on Saturday, with well over 1400 people plus 200 exhibitors attending both days. Collectors came from all over the United States, including people from California, New York, and many states in between. The exhibitor space of 76 booths was sold out, with exhibitors from Texas, California, New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, and Kentucky, as well as from states closer to the show. A wide variety of material was offered, with antique advertising items, political Americana, tokens and medals and World's Fair material strongly represented. Other topics covered included slot machines, pinball, baseball cards, collector plates, checks, military items, post cards, trade cards, stocks and bonds, and other paper items. A special feature of the show were the three public auctions held Saturday evening. Paul Cunningham of Tecumseh, Michigan, offered a variety of tokens and medals. Kurt Krueger of Iola, Wisconsin, offered a large collection of 500 antique dolls from the Clara Bleck collection. Prices realized totaled almost $20,000. The third auction was by Dave Kenney of Rockford, Illinois, featuring slot machines, antique advertising, juke boxes, and related items. A Watling Rol-A-Top sold for $2,700, with other items bringing varied prices. All three auctions reported excellent prices for quality material.

The many exhibitors reported brisk sales, with the crowd heavy on early Saturday, and remaining steady throughout the two days. Sales were generally excellent, with customers seeking, and usually locating, specific items. The wide variety of exhibitors insured all customers of locating needed collectibles.

The 1982 March NCE is scheduled for March 19 & 20, also with 76 exhibitors returning to the Ramada O'Hare Inn. A winter NCE is scheduled for December 11 & 12, 1982, at the McCormick Inn in Chicago. Collectors and exhibitors wishing further information should contact: Rich Hartzog, P.O. Box 4143, Rockford, IL 61110.

Vatican Authorizes Commemorative

To honor the 600th anniversary of the Black Madonna, the Vatican has authorized the striking and issuance of a commemorative medal beginning August 26, 1982. The medal, designed by Mrs. Ewa Olszewska-Borys, one of Poland's best known artists, features a reproduction of the painting of the Black Madonna on the obverse and a portrait of Pope John Paul II on the reverse.

The anniversary not only recognizes the Black Madonna, but also the founding of the Jasna Gora, a Marian sanctuary in Czestochowa. The monastery was founded on June 22, 1382, by Prince Wladyslaw of Opole. On that day the Prince handed over to the Pauline Fathers, recently arrived from Hungary, the Church of the Blessed Virgin Mary. On August 9 of that year, a monastery for the Pauline Fathers was erected, directly joining the Church.

The Black Madonna painting was offered to the monastery by Prince Wladyslaw. The painting, according to a 15th century story, is mensa Nazares, a plank from a table made by Jesus of Nazareth, on which St. Luke was said to have painted an image of the Mother of God. Emperor Constantine took the painting from Jerusalem to Constantinople, when it came to Rhutenia, to then be offered to the Jasna Gora Monastery.

Each year the Marian Sanctuary attracts millions of pilgrims from Poland as well as many other countries. The year 1982 will be a Jubilee year and the liturgical feast of the Divine Mother of Czestochowa falls on August 26. Anniversary celebrations will be held in Poland, as well as other countries throughout the world.

The medal is available in 18-kt. gold, sterling silver and bronze. The gold medal measures 26mm and sells for $270; the sterling silver is 43mm and sells for $42 and the bronze medal is 60mm and is priced at $23 each. The Vatican has selected the Medallic Art Company of Danbury, Connecticut, to manufacture and market the Black Madonna commemorative medal in the United States. Reservations for individual medals, or for sets of three can be made through the Vatican Medal Program, Medallic Art Company, Old Ridgebury Road, Danbury, CT 06810. Each order must include an additional $2 for postage and handling.

New Washington Medal Extends Gasparro's Legacy

A new medal has been introduced to commemorate George Washington as the "Father of Our Country" in the 250th year of his birth. Designed by Frank Gasparro, former Chief Engraver of the U.S. Mint, under a commission from DesignPak Incorporated, of Marlboro, Massachusetts, the collector's piece is being issued privately.

The medal is 39mm in diameter and has been minted in Proof quality by the Medallic Art Company of Danbury, Connecticut. It is available in a limited edition of 10,000 in one ounce (.999 fine silver) at $30.00, 5,000 Vermeil (24-kt gold on .999 fine silver) at $45.00; and 1,000 in solid, gold for $950.00 each. The latter piece contains 1.43 troy ounces of pure gold. Each of these commemoratives is individually edge numbered and is sent in a presentation box with a special display stand. A $1.00 postage and handling charge should accompany each medal order.

Gasparro, who will personally sign a certificate of authenticity to accompany each piece, is renowned in numismatic circles for his 38-year career at the Mint. Upon his retirement in early 1981 after sixteen years as the Chief Engraver, Gasparro was quoted as saying "I'm not done yet, I want to develop a variety of ideas in medallic art."

Gasparro, whose design legacy at the Mint includes the Eisenhower dollar, the reverse side of the Kennedy half dollar, the reverse of the Lincoln Memorial penny, and more than 100 other medals and coins, takes a deep historical interest in the subjects of his artistry. His goal has always been to capture strong personality and character traits in his renderings and to enhance them through meticulous attention to design craftsmanship.

"Washington", the sculptor recounts, "was above all a man of terrific strength. I see him as a man of very dominant strength, and I tried to abstract here and there in order to get this across". Among other things, he says, he gave the portrait a firm jaw and heavy neck, strengthening the line of the cheekbone and placing the head "far advanced".

To a general public familiar with the classically-stylized Washington quarter coin, Gasparro's Washington displays intentional humanity. "I wanted to show a feeling not of delicacy but of sensitivity in his features", Gasparro describes. "I didn't make him look like an emperor; I just tried to make him look very strong".

In profile, with wind-swept hair, steady gaze, strong aquiline nose and straight mouth line, this rendering of Washington conveys at once determination, resolve, patience and wisdom. The portrait is intended to show Washington around the age of 50, just after he'd finished his duties as Commander-in-Chief during the American Revolution.

The Washington Medal is marketed through Commemorative Designs of Wayne, Pennsylvania. A toll free number, 1-800-345-8500, Extension 29, is available for information and placing orders. Mail orders may be sent to Commemorative Designs, 322 East Lancaster Avenue, Wayne, PA 19087.

Durst to Reprint Early Medallists and Die Sinkers Prior to Civil War

One of the more scholarly and informative monographs of the 1950s relating to U.S. Numismatics was Richard D. Kenney's Early American Medallists and Die Sinkers, Prior to the Civil War. Published by the eminent numismatist Wayte Raymond in 1954, it's been out of print for years. Sanford J. Durst, New York based numismatic book publisher has announced that he will reprint this important and valuable reference for the serious U.S. numismatist.

The 32 page book includes a listing, historical data and illustrations of the work of over 100 medallists, die sinkers, engravers and designers of U.S. coins, medals and tokens of the Colonies, Hard Times tokens, The U.S. Mint, private medals, and pioneer and territorial gold.

According to the foreword by Wayte Raymond: "The germinating roots of medallic art in the United States lay not only among the slowly rising group of die-sinkers, but also in what may be termed a medallic 'folk-art.' This category included silver and goldsmiths, artisans, and painters who, due to conditions imposed by economic necessity and a remote Europe already medalically mature, contributed immensely to early American numismatics."

"The list below contains names of individuals who may be listed as medalists, be they die-sinkers, engravers, designers, or coiners and technicans. Not included are those engravers whose major output encompassed the post-Civil War period, e.g. Key, the sons of the elder Robert Lovett, Merriam, Paquet, etc."

Durst notes further that "it must be understood, however, that new names will inevitably be called to the attention of the compiler and from time to time these will be published together with further pertinent data and rectification of errors. Since contemporary documents are conclusive proof, it is to be hoped that our readers who possess or know of such material, i.e. letters, directories, etc. will communicate with the compiler."

Early American Medallists and Die Sinkers is available to collectors for $6.00. Orders and inquiries should be directed to Sanford J. Durst, 170 East 61st Street, New York, NY 10021.

Con Edison Celebrates 100th Anniversary

In September of 1882, Edison Electric Illuminating Company, founded by Thomas A. Edison, began supplying electric power to 59 customers in a square-mile area of Lower Manhattan. To celebrate the 100th anniversary of this date, the Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc., the corporate descendent, has announced the sale of a commemorative medal, struck by the Medallic Art Company, of Danbury, Connecticut.

The obverse of the medal was designed by the Con Edison Public Affairs Department as the official centennial logo for all materials. In the center of the concave surface is a light bulb. In the middle of the bulb is the New York skyline surrounded by the legend NEW YORK SALUTES/THOMAS EDISON. A ribbon inscribed with the words 100 YEARS OF/ELECTRIC SERVICE is wrapped around the bulb's neck. On the commemorative's reverse is the current logo of the company: CON EDISON CONSERVE ENERGY.

Con Edison's 100th anniversary commemorative medal is priced at $16 plus $2 postage. Orders should include checks made out to Con Edison for the full amount of $18 and should be sent to Mr. Louis Sandhop, Community Relations, Room 1631, 4 Irving Pl., New York, NY 10003.

Church Issues Communion Token

Communion token specialist Leonard Dunikoski and his wife Sarah have designed a commemorative communion token for the 250th anniversary of the Presbyterian Church at Shrewsbury (N.J.). The token was commissioned by the church in an effort to mark the anniversary with a tangible memento that was uniquely Presbyterian, historically significant and widely appreciated.

Since many collectors are unfamiliar with communion tokens, a brief historical overview might be appropriate. From the sixteenth to the nineteenth centuries, Presbyterians used communion tokens to restrict the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to those members known to be worthy to receive it. The elders or the minister would hold a preparatory service on Friday or Saturday to dispense the communion tokens (or "tickets", since they served as tickets of admission to the Lord's Supper). At the Sunday service, communion was served at tables, with an elder stationed at each table to collect the communion tokens and to insure that no one was seated without one. Often a small fence surrounded the communion table, and to this day some churches verbally "fence the table" by using a verse of scripture (I Corinthians XI, 24-28) to remind communicants of the old traditions.

Most communion tokens were made of lead or a mixture of lead and tin. The earliest specimens were very crude and were often made from molds made of wood, stone or metal. Designs were sometimes carved into the mold, and othertimes were added with a punch. Tokens were square, oval, round, hexagonal, or whatever shape the church would choose. Later specimens were struck from dies and often rivaled coins in their detail. The selection of designs for the obverse and reverse reflected the differing nature of each church, with some churches using a verse of scripture, some the name or initials of the minister, some the image of the communion table or the ediface of the church. A church sometimes changed the design of its communion tokens when a new minister was installed, often melting the old tokens to use for the new ones.

In designing a commemorative communion token for the Presbyterian Church at Shrewsbury, the Dunikoskis wanted to create a token which was rich in history and symbolism, and unique to the Shrewsbury congregation. Since no records remain to document the use of communion tokens in Shrewsbury, they had no original token to use as a guide. However, the 250-year history of the church provided an excellent design for one side of the token. As the obverse of the token, they used the oldest corporate seal of any American Presbyterian church, which was used by Shrewsbury and three other churches (Allentown, Cranbury, Freehold) which formed the "Presbyterian Church of Monmouth County in the province of New Jersey". The seal dates back to a royal charter issued in 1749. The device at the center is thought to be a modified version of the seal of the Church of Scotland, a burning bush symbolizing the indestructible nature of the church. The motto "Religious Liberty" recalls the sentiments of early Monmouth County settlers fleeing religious persecution in their native Scotland. The dates 1732-1982 and the legend around the edge were added for historical reference.

The design of the reverse side of the token proved more challenging. Any temporal theme, such as a church ediface, might be suitable for a commemorative token, but this was to be a commemorative communion token. Even though it would never be used to restrict communion, this was to be a special token. Therefore, the design of the reverse side combined several traditional ideas, starting with the communion table and the scripture "This do in remembrance of me". Around the central design is a circle, a symbol used on early communion tokens to signify completeness and neverending joy in Jesus Christ. The wording is self-explanatory. The verse below appeared on an early Covenanter communion token, and the present Shrewsbury minister, Dr. David P. Muyskens, uses it in the modern communion service. As was the old custom, the initials of the minister appear on the token (near the left star, as a stylized M enclosing a D and a P). As is the modern custom, the initials of the token designers also appear on the token (near the right star, as an S for Sarah and L for Leonard, jointed to form a D). The tokens were issued in three metals: 30 sterling silver, 250 nickle silver and 250 antiqued nickle silver, all 40 mm in diameter.

A limited number of the nickel silver and antiqued nickel silver tokens are available for sale from Dunikoski at P.O. Box 122, Little Silver, NJ 07739. The tokens are $12.50 each, postpaid, and checks should be made payable to "Presbyterian Church at Shrewsbury".

12th Commonwealth Games Commemorated

The Brisbane branch of the Australian Numismatic Society has commemorated Australia's 12th Commonwealth Games with the issuance of a 50mm medal. The limited issue commemorative has been struck in aluminum with frosted relief and highlighted edges (1000 pieces), two-tone copper (500 pieces) and .925 fine sterling silver with frosted relief and polished incuse (250 pieces).

The obverse of the medal depicts the incuse numeral 1982, which fills the contours of the obverse. The legend XII COMMONWEALTH GAMES-BRISBANE appears in high relief. The reverse features the stylized games symbol and three sport motifs; cycling, running and swimming, all surrounded by the legend AUSTRALIAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY-BRISBANE • COMMEMORATING 20 YEARS.

Each medal is encased in a soft mini-grip plastic pouch. The aluminum medal sells for US$8 plus $.75 postage per medal; the copper sells for US$12 plus $1.50 postage per medal; and the silver is priced at US$73 plus $1.50 per medal. All orders must include either a Bank Cheque or an International Money Order for the full price of the order plus the postage for each medal. The 12th Commonwealth Games commemorative medal may be ordered from the Australian Numismatic Society-Brisbane, P.O. Box 78, Fortitude Valley, Brisbane, Queensland 4006, Australia.

Brookgreen Gardens Issues 1982 Membership Medal

Brookgreen Gardens of South Carolina, a haven for famous works by American sculptors, has commissioned award winning sculptor Karen Worth to exercise her skills in creating the Brookgreen Gardens 1982-83 Membership Medal. Mrs. Worth used the legends of classical Greek mythology to portray subjects of main interest to members of Brookgreen Gardens, and chose two specific legends to be depicted on either side of the bas-relief medal.

The obverse depicts Pygmalion, legendary King of Cyprus, who carved the figure of a beutiful maiden and immediately fell in love with it. Accordingly, he prayed to Aphrodite, the goddess of love, that the statue might be transformed into a real woman. The medal portrays the magical moment when the statue becomes the maiden Galatea, and an overjoyed Pygmalion reaches out toward his creation.

The reverse portrays Orpheus, the celebrated Greek poet. According to myth, the god Apollo presented Orpheus with a lyre and instructed him to play. So skillful did he become that his music enchanted the wild animals and they followed him as he played. Mrs. Worth modifies mythology by showing Orpheus playing the lyre, while captivating an audience of wildlife indigenous to South Carolina. Information about Brookgreen Gardens membership may be requested by mail from Brookgreen Gardens, Murrells Inlet, SC 29576.

1982 World's Fair Medal Issued

The World's Fair Committee, authorized by the Bureau of International Expositions in Paris, France, has announced that Allen Metals Mint of Oak Ridge, Tennessee, will issue a special set of Official 1982 World's Fair Medals. The medals, designed by Allen Metals president David Rivers, celebrate the "Energy Turns the World" theme of the 1982 Fair.

The official symbol of the World's Fair, a stylized flame, is featured on the obverse along with the legend THE 1982 WORLD'S FAIR • KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE, U.S.A. The reverse presents the magnificent Sunsphere, a 266-foot tall structure topped by a massive glass globe covered with pure 24-kt. gold dust. The Sunsphere stands next to the 90,000 square foot United States Pavillion sponsored by the U.S. Department of Commerce and rises above the Tennessee Amphitheater on the Fairgrounds. In the sky on the medal's reverse can be seen fireworks exploding above the Fairgrounds.

The medals, all officially authorized by the Fair Committee, are available directly from Allen Metals Mint in three different metallic compositions. The bronze version is 1½ inch in diameter and is available for sale for $6.50; the Proof silver edition, also 1½ inch in diameter, struck from 1 ounce of .999 fine silver is available for sale for $20.50; and the one-half inch 14 kt. Proof gold edition can be purchased for $25. A set of all three medals is available for $59.50.

Collectors interested in acquiring the medals can send orders accompanied by full remittance plus $1.75 per request to Allen Metals Mint, P.O. Box G-1, Oak Ridge, TN 37830.

"End of the Trail" Featured on Medals

End of the Trail, James Earle Fraser's statue made famous at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco in 1915, is featured on the medals struck for the California State Numismatic Association's recent 70th Semi-Annual Convention and Coin Show in San Francisco. Recognition on the obverse is also given to the Host Club, Liberty Numismatic Association, which celebrates its 25th Anniversary in 1982. The reverse design is the CSNA logo. Although the silver medals have been sold out, a limited supply of bronze medals are available and may be purchased for $1.50 (including postage and handling) from: Ed Fulwider, 504 Vista Mar Ave., Pacifica, CA 94044.

City Beautification Inspires Coin

Coin fanciers everywhere will be interested in enhancing their collections with a solid bronze beauty just recently issued by the chamber of commerce of a picturesque mountain community located in extreme northern California. As usual, there's a story behind it. Also, there's more than one reason why the coin will be popular.

The attractive coin was designed as a fund-raiser for the city of Mount Shasta's unique "Trees for Tomorrow" and city museum projects. The "Trees for Tomorrow" community project, spawned by Mount Shasta landscape designer Ray Robinson, is a beautification plan that will see the city's main business blocks lined with glistening, dark-green liquidambar trees. Liquidambars, otherwise known as sweet gum shade trees, sport maple-like leaves which turn brilliant scarlet and deep crimson during the fall season.

The first phase of the project has been completed — fifteen liquidambar trees line a business block of Mount Shasta Boulevard — thanks to the generous contributions of money, labor, equipment and materials by enthusiastic Mount Shasta residents. But it took some doing. First of all, the sidewalk had to be replaced and widened before the area's always-snowy winter season set in. There was much to be done. Out went a call for volunteers who showed up in numbers to lend whatever time and expertise in order to get the underground sprinkling system installed, the holes dug and the trees planted before the first snowfall.

The entire five-part plan includes planting liquidambar trees south on Mount Shasta Boulevard all the way to the freeway exit; north to the city park; and east and west until, in the not-too-distant future, the elfin city nestled in the northern California mountains will have great avenues of shade trees which will burst forth in fiery magnificence each autumn.

How to finance this endeavor plus the perpetual care and maintenance of this awesome work of art? That's where the commemorative coins come into the picture, and they are really beautiful. Of solid bronze, one side depicts a lovely, spreading shade tree. On the other side is engraved a picture of Mt. Shasta, a lone, lofty peak (14,162-feet in elevation) upon whose lower slopes the city of Mount Shasta was founded during the last century, and after which the community is named.

Long considered one of the most scenically-spectacular mountains in the world, its heavily forested slope has the largest base and the greatest mass of any lone peak. The mountain is also a constant subject of world-wide controversy. Stories and legends abound about supernatural "Lemurians" (who were reputedly the survivors of the sunken prehistoric continent of Mu) still inhabiting its vast interior. Many books have been written on the subject, but the ancient mountain, ever snow-and-glacier-capped even during the summer months, slumbers on while its alpenglow leaves admirers uplifted and bemused.

The new bronze coin, is the only coin ever offered by the dwellers of this alpine wonderland, and it has a face value of $2.50. Collectors might be interested in knowing that of the 5000 coined, 1200 were sold during the first ten days of February of 1982, when they first became available. The popularity of this coin is extending to areas out of the state and efforts have been made to widen the sale of the coins nationally. Collectors can order the coin from The Mount Shasta Chamber of Commerce, 300 Pine Street, Mount Shasta, CA 96067. Single coins in a plastic case are $3. Double coins in plastic cases are priced at $5.75. Add to this $1.25 to cover postage and insurance.

Not only will the proceeds from this distinctive coin furnish a perpetuity fund for the care and maintenance of Mount Shasta's "Trees for Tomorrow," the sale of the coin will also provide funds to create and sustain a museum filled with artifacts and memorabilia of the historic lumber town which was built by hardy pioneers who flocked to the northern California mountains seeking gold and liked the tall pines and silvery rivers so well they decided to stay.

Medal Commemorates Enthusiast

The Hjemkomst Expedition began in 1973 when Robert Asp of Moorhead, Minnesota, dreamed of building a replica of an ancient Viking ship and sailing it to Norway. From 1973 on, Asp worked on his dream, making sure that it would represent the exact style and design of the Viking ships of old. Asp included himself as one of the crew members for the voyage of his ship to Norway this summer. However, this was not to be. In December of 1980, Asp died of leukemia.

Asp's dream did not die, but was carried on by his family and friends, all working toward the goal of sailing the Hjemkomst (which means "homecoming" in Norwegian) to the home of their ancestors. The Hjemkmost Expedition has received tremendous national and international publicity because of the way it represents America's close ties with Norway, the spirit of a great man and the realization of a dream that many thought could never come true.

Hjemkomst Viking, Inc., the expedition's non-profit base organization, is offering a commemorative medallion for sale, the proceeds of which will be used to bring the Hjemkomst back to Minnesota. (On July 19, 1982, the Hjemkomst arrived in Bergen, Norway, after having set sail from Duluth, Minnesota, on May 6, 1982). The medallion, designed by John D. Gould, is struck in two versions: .999 fine silver and antiqued bronze. The silver medallion, priced at $128, has a limited mintage of 1,000 pieces, a diameter of 1.9375 inches, and is consecutively numbered and mounted in a handcrafted Minnesota white oak plaque, as presented to King Olaf and the people of Norway. The antiqued bronze medals are priced at $21 for the mounted piece and $15 for the unmounted.

California Exonumist Society Donates to ANA Building Fund

The California Exonumist Society voted to donate $250 to the building fund of the American Numismatic Association at its recent annual business meeting held in conjunction with the 69th Semiannual Convention of the California State Numismatic Association in Anaheim, California.

The California Exonumist Society, founded in 1960, promotes interest and participation in the collection and study of exonumia. In addition to annually sponsoring four educational forums and the All-Day Collectible Show, it presents the Best Exonumia Exhibit Award at the California State Numismatic Association conventions and publishes The Medallion, quarterly news and information bulletin edited by Lorna Lebold. Annual society dues are $4. Further information about CES may be requested from Kay Edgerton Lenker, Secretary, P.O. Box 6599, San Diego, CA 92106.

Since 1958...

I've specialized in fine Foreign commemorative medals (predominantly pre-1920), and think I can claim to be one of the leading specialists in this type of material. There must be a reason why so many collectors and dealers come to me for information, and very often sell their commemorative medals to me. The fact is, there are very few dealers who have the time, the patience, the interest, and perhaps most importantly, the library necessary to do justice to this highly specialized material.

When you have attractive or rare commemorative medals for sale, in any metal, I would appreciate the opportunity of purchasing them.

For my personal collection I am interested in buying European commemorative medals of approximately the 1763 to 1788 period, especially Franklin pieces, the Comitia Americana series, and fine portrait medals, whether specifically related to America or not.
